GREAT BRITAIN.

THE WALKING MATCH.

New York, June 19.—A noon dispatch from London says Weston has made 350 miles and Brown 347.

LATER.

New York, June 19.—Another London dispatch says Weston is now in favor of Weston. His wonderful running is a surprise to everyone. He has made better time up to noon, on the fourth day, than anything accomplished heretofore.

London, June 19.—Brown rested two hours at a stretch during the night. Weston picked up considerably then, at one time running two miles without a break. Weston appears hearty and strong, and is going finely. Brown is not so strong and his supporters are getting anxious.

WESTON TAKES THE LEAD.

2.30 p. m.—Public interest in the international pedestrian contest increases. Brown left the track at 10.15, looking queer. His record at that time was 846 miles and two laps.

At a few minutes past 11 o'clock, Weston completed the same distance and remained on the track. The shouts from the crowd announced that he had taken the lead in the best time for the distance ever yet accomplished.

5.30 p. m.—Weston, 3634 miles; Brown, 2604 miles. Brown was then resting with a bad knee. He cannot win.

At 6 o'clock Weston was resting on his 3634th mile. Brown having accomplished 2604 miles was also resting, with his physician in attendance.

AN EIGHT DAYS SEIZURE.

London, June 19.—Two brothers, belonging to a French fishing vessel, have been picked up in an open boat off New Foundland, after drifting eight days. They are terribly emaciated.

For the Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and upper lake region, falling barometer and warmer south-east winds, cloudy or partly cloudy weather, and in the Missouri valley light rains. For the lower lake region, stationary or falling barometer, diminishing northerly winds veering to south and east, partly cloudy weather. The rivers will generally fall.

A Jealous Husband Shoots His Wife and Then Commits Suicide.

Fire in the Metropolitan Hotel, New York—Breathitt County War Redivivus.

Investigation Into the Hull Murder Mystery at New York.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.
Philadelphia, June 19.—Jealousy caused James F. Dougherty, of Frankford, to shoot his wife and himself.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Williamsport, N. Y., June 19.—The residence of Samuel Miller, near Martinsville, burned last night. Mrs. Miller perished in the flames and her husband is not expected to recover from his burns.

THE BREATHITT COUNTY WAR.

Cincinnati, June 19.—Advices from Frankfort indicate the probability that troops will be sent to Breathitt county immediately. The trial of the desperadoes will be held soon in that county. A number of their adherents have been sending letters to Gov. McCreary regarding the same, threatening to annihilate the troops if sent to protect the courts. It is said the governor has concluded that there is a necessity for the immediate presence of troops.

FIRE.

New York, June 19.—The local telegraph about 9 this morning announced a fire in Niblo's Garden. It proved to be in the Metropolitan Hotel, starting just above the ceiling of the dining room on the third floor. The flames rapidly spread to the roof, but by 10 o'clock the men obtained the mastery and the fire was soon afterwards extinguished. The loss, which is not serious, is covered by insurance.

A REMARKABLE JURY.

Snow Hill, Nev., June 19.—The jury in the case of Ella Oner, charged with the homicide of Ella Hern, returned a verdict of guilty of murder with a recommendation to the mercy of the court. Judge Wilson informed the jury that the verdict must be formal and the reply must not be "guilty of murder," but "guilty of manslaughter." A formal answer was made, but before the clerk recorded the verdict, the counsel for the defense demanded a poll of the jury. The panel was called and a formal answer was made—"guilty of manslaughter," until at length a juror answered "not guilty." The reply created a sensation. Judge Wilson then said the jury had not agreed, and they would again retire. They did so and returned in a short time with a verdict—not guilty of murder—but guilty of manslaughter. The prisoner was then removed.

WIFE MURDER.

Astoria, Ore., June 19.—George Ansknap to-day killed his wife and fled. His wife had three times cut the rope when he had attempted to hang himself.

THE HULL MURDER MYSTERY.

New York, June 19.—The inquiry in the Hull murder case was resumed to-day. Only one witness was allowed in the court room at a time, so that no witnesses could hear the testimony and the cross-examination of another witness. The interest in the case is such that long before the time for taking testimony every seat was occupied.

Assistant District Attorney Rollins represented the people and Jno. D. Townsend represented the family and Dr. Hull.

Dr. Lorenzo S. Hull, the husband of the murdered woman appeared prostrated and was the first witness. He spoke in very low tones, and said he heard Wednesday morning that his wife was dead. He dressed and went down stairs and found that she had been murdered. The appearance presented was awful. It nearly took away his senses. He could scarcely collect his thoughts to talk of the matter.

Cross examination.—On Tuesday night he returned about 10.30. Mr. Chittenden had visited him and his wife that very evening as he frequently did. He left her house about a quarter past 10 o'clock. During Mr. Chittenden's visit witness went to Madison avenue and Twenty-third street to see a patient and returned at about a quarter before 10. He was frequently in the habit of leaving Chittenden and Mrs. Hull together. He went up stairs with an ordinary sperm candle in his hand, which he kept burning only a few moments before lighting the gas. He stood up stairs till 2 a. m. and then fell asleep. He heard the cabman come in about 12.30, and heard nothing else during the night. There had been nothing unusual between himself and his wife on the evening before the murder.

A Big Strike.

Allentown, Pa., June 19.—About 300 puddlers and helpers in the Allentown rolling mills struck for an advance of five cents per hour. The mills stopped work.

Marine.

Rotterdam, June 19.—Arrived: Steamship P. Coland, from New York.

WASHINGTON.

An Exciting All Night Session of the Senate.

Republicans Filibustering on the Army Appropriation Bill.

CONGRESSIONAL SENATE.

In the senate yesterday afternoon the army appropriation bill came up after an animated discussion, in which a dozen senators took part. The republicans resorted to filibustering to prevent a vote on the bill. Several motions to adjourn were made and voted down. The sergeant-at-large was sent out to bring in absentees.

Washington, June 19.—At 3.50 a. m., an additional report was made by the sergeant-at-large, that he found the following senators absent from the city: Anthony, Beck, Butler, Edmunds, Farley, Grover, Hannan, Hear, Jones (Nev.), McGowan, Plumb, Sharon, Teller, White and Wilson.

Davis (Ill.) and Johnson were reported sick. Messengers had been sent to inform Bell, Bruce, Booth, Chandler, Coke, Dawes, Kellogg, Kirkwood, Morrill, Saunders, Wallace and Van Dine of the order of the senate.

At 5.10 Paddock moved to adjourn. The presiding officer roused up with a start and put the question. The senators answered that they were too unwell to come to the senate. Senator Chandler would not answer call, Senator Wallace was near home, Senator Edmunds, Morrill and Bruce answered that they would come immediately and Senators Bell, Coke and Kirkwood reported in person.

At intervals of about half an hour, motions were made to dispense with further proceedings under the call, but only to be rejected. Morgan moved that the senator from New York be called to order.

Working, however, maintained his feet elevated on the desk.

Davis: "Judge now we can have a general understanding to vote to-day. If so I propose we come to the senate."

Mr. Morrill, at 9.15 moved that the senate adjourn until to-morrow.

Mr. Morrill: "I desire it to be understood so far as the democratic senators are concerned, that we have been anxious all the time that there should be no adjournment until this matter is settled to-day or to-morrow, no matter how long it may be."

Mr. Burdette moved that the sergeant at arms be required to compel the attendance of absentees.

At the usual time the senate could have resumed consideration of the bill without conditions. The republicans would in that case have voted. They did not want it understood that they would be compelled to vote. It could be determined where responsibility rested.

Thurman has resumed the chair and Rollins moved that the sergeant-at-large request the attendance of absentees and not compel them to attend. Rejected.

The motion of Burdette was agreed to. At fifteen minutes past 10 o'clock, the sergeant-at-large proceeded to execute the order to compel the attendance of absentees.

Heard said if the senator from Rhode Island would compel his political friends to vote when they were in their seats proper legislation could be carried on. It was not of course a question of the day, but the operations of the government might be continued yet the republicans, occupying their seats, declined answering to their names when called.

The trouble was not that senators were not here, but that they refused to vote.

Twenty-five democrats and five republicans present. This number was increased from time to time by the arrival of other senators.

After a long pause in the proceedings, Withers at 11.30, made a parliamentary inquiry about it if it was adjourned, the legislative day of Thursday would begin at noon.

The chair responded that it would. Mr. Withers then moved to adjourn.

Thurman re-assembled at noon and the session was opened with prayer.

The chair stated that he was informed by the clerk that owing to the length of the previous session the journal was not completely made up. He suggested therefore that the republicans should be required to object, and insist on the observance of the rule which provides that the first business is the reading of the journal.

Davis (W. Va.) "I take it—"

Conkling (interrupting)—"I object to all debate."

The chair—"The reading of the journal cannot be dispensed with except with unanimous consent."

HOUSE.

Mr. McMahon submitted the conference report upon the judicial expenses bill. The report was ordered to be printed.

In the course of the discussion Mr. Garfield said the republicans would stick, and Mr. Springer said the democrats would never yield.

The report was adopted by a strict party vote—102 to 79.

Wireless.

The Yale University night arrived at New London to-day; the Harvard crew comes to-night.

Gen. Sherman and staff have gone to Orchard Lake, Mich., to attend the commencement exercises of the Michigan Military Academy.

The Ohio State Editorial Association is sight-seeing and dead-heading about Cincinnati to-day.

The corner stone of Washington's headquarters at Valley Forge, Pa., today is the presence of a vast crowd.

Gen. Howard has held a council with the Mosas band of Indians, who have agreed to go peacefully upon their reservation.

LATE CITY NEWS.

John D. Hance and family leave for Rome City in the morning to spend a few days.

The little girl who was accidentally shot the other evening is all right. No particular damage done.

Chong Kee to-day paid up his debts in Pratt's court and appealed the case. He says, "Me got bigger Mexican man. Me go on eye on he."

In the article on Fred Boltz, in last evening's SENTINEL, the latter should have read: "Fred will be admitted to the club; but owing to this rule cannot take part in the Toledo regatta from this club." He will enter as a member of the Anthony Club.

Patrolman Rothe discovered a light in Mrs. Lichten's grocery on Barr street, last night about 1 o'clock. He and John Madden investigated, and at the back door found a step ladder, and the transom pried open. Chief Smith was sent for. When he arrived a thorough investigation was made but they failed to discover anyone. There was probably someone in the room, who became frightened at the noise made by the officers at the front door and escaped through the transom before they went around to the back door. Nothing was taken.

The divorce case of Leiter vs. Leiter was heard in the superior court yesterday afternoon. Dr. Leiter prays for a divorce upon the ground that his wife was almost constantly under the influence of narcotics, and introduced considerable evidence in support of his statement. On the part of the defendant evidence was introduced to the effect that the doctor was also often under the influence of liquid narcotics, such as beer, whisky, etc. Judge Lowry took the matter under advisement, but intimated that the evidence would hardly warrant a decree.

He was frequently in the habit of leaving Chittenden and Mrs. Hull together. He went up stairs with an ordinary sperm candle in his hand, which he kept burning only a few moments before lighting the gas. He stood up stairs till 2 a. m. and then fell asleep. He heard the cabman come in about 12.30, and heard nothing else during the night. There had been nothing unusual between himself and his wife on the evening before the murder.

WASHINGTON.

An Exciting All Night Session of the Senate.

Republicans Filibustering on the Army Appropriation Bill.

CONGRESSIONAL SENATE.

(In the senate yesterday afternoon the army appropriation bill came up after an animated discussion, in which a dozen senators took part. The republicans resorted to filibustering to prevent a vote on the bill. Several motions to adjourn were made and voted down. The sergeant-at-arms was sent out to bring in absentees.

—ED. SENTINEL.)

Washington, June 19.—At 3.50 a. m., an additional report was made by the sergeant-at-arms that he had brought in the following senators absent from the city: Anthony, Beck, Butler, Edmunds, Farley, Grover, Hamilton, Hendricks, Mr. Pherson, Plumb, Sharon, Teller, White and Williams.

Davis (Ill.) and Johnson were reported sick.

Messengers had been sent to inform Bell, Bruce, Cooke, Dawes, Kellogg, Kirkwood, Morrill, Saunders, Wallace and Voorhees of the order of the senate.

At 5.10 Paddock moved to adjourn.

The presiding officer roused up with a start and put the question. The senators dozing in their seats, bestirred themselves and woke up those senators who had fallen asleep.

The roll was then called and the motion to adjourn was lost. The sleepy situation again prevailed.

At 5.30 the sergeant-at-arms further reported that Senators Booth, Dawes and Kellogg, answered that they were too unwell to come to the senate. Senator Chandler would not answer call. Senator Wallace was not found. Senators Saunders, Morrill, and Bruce, answered the call. They would come immediately and Senators Bell, Cooke and Kirkwood reported in person.

At intervals of about half an hour, motions were made to dispense with further proceedings under the call, but only to be regularly voted down.

Morgan moved that the senator from New York be called to order.

Coolidge, however, maintained his feet elevated upon the desk.

Dawes—"I judge now we can have a general understanding to-day. If so I propose we come to it."

Conkling—"We can have no understanding until we have had a vote on the bill."

Mr. Morrill, at 5.15 moved that the senate adjourn. He had no doubt that each side would be willing to give up the contest of during the day. He thought that as reasonable men they could reach such a conclusion.

Mr. Eaton—"I hope we will not adjourn unconditionally."

Mr. Morrill—"I have no reasonable doubt that this bill can be disposed of to-day."

Mr. Pendleton—"Will the senator agree that the bill shall be voted on to-day?"

Mr. Morrill—"At no time."

Mr. Eaton—"I desire it to be understood so far as the democratic senators are concerned that we have no objection at all to this matter being settled, to-day or tomorrow, no matter how long it may be—whether ten or twenty hours."

The senate refused to adjourn.

Mr. Burnside moved that the sergeant at arms be required to compel the attendance of absentees.

Mr. Eaton said he would be well to know who they were and for that purpose, On his motion, there was a call of the senate and thirty senators answered to their names.

Mr. Burnside replied that it was in the power of the majority to adjourn when they pleased. They did not want it understood that they would be compelled to vote. It could be easily determined where responsibility rested.

Thurman here resumed the chair and Rollins moved that the sergeant-at-arms require the attendance of absentees and not compel them to attend. Rejected.

The motion of Burnside was agreed to. At fifteen minutes to 6 o'clock, the sergeant-at-arms proceeded to execute the order to compel the attendance of absentees.

Hereafter said if the senator from Rhode Island would compel his political friends to vote when they were in their seats proper legislation could be carried out. It was now near the 1st of July, when the appropriation bills would take effect. The senator endeavored to pass them so that the operations of the government might be continued, yet the republican senators, occupying their seats, declined to answer to their names when called.

The trouble was not that senators were not here, but that they refused to vote. Twenty democrats and five republicans present. This number was increased from time to time by the arrival of other senators.

After a long pause in the proceedings, Withers at 1.30, made a parliamentary inquiry what the senate adjourned to the legislative day of Thursday would begin at.

The chair responded that it would.

Mr. Withers then moved to adjourn. Carried.

The senate re-assembled at noon and the session was opened with prayer.

The chair stated that he was informed by the clerk that owing to the length of the previous session the journal was not completely made up. He suggested therefore that the reading thereof be suspended.

Conkling—"I object, and insist on observance of the rule which provides that the first business is the reading of the journal."

Davis (W. Va.)—"I take it."

Conkling (interjection)—"I object to all debate."

The Chair—"The reading of the journal cannot be dispensed with except with unanimous consent."

HOUSE.

Mr. McMahon submitted the conference report upon the judicial expenses bill. The report brought on a discussion.

In the course of the discussion Mr. Garfield said the democrats would stick, and Mr. Springer said the democrats would never yield.

The report was adopted by a strict party vote—102 to 79.

G. E. Meisner, of Missouri, and one from each of the thirty-five states; secretary, W. Scott of Illinois; treasurer, A. E. Whitney of Illinois; executive committee, T. S. Hubbard, D. W. Scott, S. W. Hovey, Franklin Davis and George B. Thomas.

Patrolman Rothe discovered a light in Mrs. Lichten's grocery on Barr street, last night about 1 o'clock. He and John Madden investigated, and at the back door found a step ladder, and the transom pried open. Chief Smith was sent for. When he arrived a thorough investigation was made but they failed to discover anyone. There was probably someone in the room, who became frightened at the noise made by the officers at the front door and escaped through the transom before they went around to the back door. Nothing was taken.

The divorce case of Leiter vs. Leiter was heard in the superior court yesterday afternoon. Dr. Leiter prays for a divorce upon the ground that his wife was almost constantly under the influence of narcotics, and introduced considerable evidence in support of his statement. On the part of the defendant evidence was introduced to the effect that the doctor was also often under the influence of liquid narcotics, such as beer, whisky, etc. Judge Lowry took the matter under advisement, but intimated that the evidence would hardly warrant a decree.

BOLD ROBBERY.

A Maples Man Visits Chicago on His Travels.

And Has $240 Stolen From Him.

Henry Fry who was one of the principals in a pair of provoke cases at Justice Ryan's office a few weeks ago and who left for Nebraska the same day, has returned. He was yesterday victimized out of $240 in Chicago.

He was on his way to Michigan at the time, and not being very well acquainted in the city inquired of a stranger the way to the Michigan Southern depot. The stranger willingly offered to conduct him thither, and on the way learned that Fry had been to Nebraska and was bound for Michigan. He led him by some circuitous route and finally stopped before a small frame house, telling Fry to wait for him, that he would be back in a minute.

He came out shortly afterwards with a $10 note in his hand, saying that he wanted to send off a couple of dollars and asked whether he (Fry) could give him change for a $10 bill. Fry produced his wallet to accommodate the man, when the fellow appropriated the whole business and rushed back into the house and up the stairs.

Fry followed in hot pursuit, but the sharper got to the head of the stairs and through a door in time to bolt it, and Fry was left. He at once notified the police who came and forced the door, but the bird had flown. Mr. Fry was in a bad fix, but fortunately met Mr. Abbott, who advanced him money enough to return to this city. Mr. Fry returned on No. 4 this morning, and having $300 on deposit here he repaid Mr. Abbott and went to his home. He lives about three miles south of Maples, and is a steady and hard working young man.

Amusement of the King.

There can be racing on the track, dancing, etc., in the grove, a base ball game, balloon ascensions, a band concert, and in fact everything which can be contrived to make the day attractive and enjoyable.

If our business men agree, wise they will take hold of this matter and push it forward with vim. The members of the several committees which were appointed last evening are requested to meet at the Street Railway office this evening, and it is to be hoped that there may be a large attendance.

A Depot Policeman.

To the Editor of the Sentinel: I noticed an article in the DAILY SENTINEL a few days ago from Samuel M. Hensch, our efficient criminal prosecutor, urging the necessity of a competent detective at our railroad depots, which should not be ignored by our city council. Cities of our near importance and size of Fort Wayne are provided with railway station detectives, thereby protecting the traveling public as well as the resident citizens, and insuring protection and confidence to the general public, and it being also a benefit and credit to the city. A great many legitimate complaints could be made where a railway depot is not supplied by those officers, and in our city council making such an appointment, I do not know of any better man available outside of our day and night protective force than ex-Marshall Christopher Kelly. Mr. Kelly is a man of unlimited experience, and of intrinsic value for such a position, and our city council could make no wiser acquisition to our already efficient day and night police force than ex-Marshall Kelly. Then our citizens could boast of the most complete and efficient detective and protective police force in the state. Yours truly, CITIZEN.

BOLD ROBBERY.

A Maples Man Visits Chicago on His Travels.

And Has $240 Stolen From Him.

Henry Fry who was one of the principals in a pair of provoke cases at Justice Ryan's office a few weeks ago and who left for Nebraska the same day, has returned. He was yesterday victimized out of $240 in Chicago.

He was on his way to Michigan at the time, and not being very well acquainted in the city inquired of a stranger the way to the Michigan Southern depot. The stranger willingly offered to conduct him thither, and on the way learned that Fry had been to Nebraska and was bound for Michigan. He led him by some circuitous route and finally stopped before a small frame house, telling Fry to wait for him, that he would be back in a minute.

He came out shortly afterwards with a $10 note in his hand, saying that he wanted to send off a couple of dollars and asked whether he (Fry) could give him change for a $10 bill. Fry produced his wallet to accommodate the man, when the fellow appropriated the whole business and rushed back into the house and up the stairs. Fry followed in hot pursuit, but the sharper got to the head of the stairs and through a door in time to bolt it, and Fry was left.

At once notified the police, who came and forced the door, but the bird had flown. Mr. Fry was in a bad fix as he was left almost without a cent, but fortunately met Mr. Abbott, who advanced him money enough to return to this city. Mr. Fry returned on No. 4 this morning, and having $300 on deposit here he repaid Mr. Abbott and went to his home.
